UNITED NATIONS

SECRETARIAT

ST

Distribution
GENERAL

ST/ECIA/C.1/3/Add.2*
26th October, 1950
ORIGINAL: ENGLISH

ECONOMIC COMMISSION FOR LATIN AMERICA
ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT AND IMMIGRATION
WORKING COMMITTEE AT THE SECRETARIAT LEVEL

First Session
Santiago, Chile

DRAFT OUTLINE OF CHAPTER HEADINGS OF GENERAL STUDY OF THE RELATION BETWEEN ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT AND IMMIGRATION

Introduction I

1. The E.D.I. Committee, why it was set up. Relation between (a) and (b) of terms of reference. Data and previous studies in this field, general and for Latin America. Points of departure for the present study.

Historical Aspects II

2. History of economic activity and development in Latin American countries in relation to population and immigration.

Economic Development III

3. The economic needs of Latin American countries, present and prospective. Requirements and plans for further economic development. Variations between the different types of country of Latin America.

Population and Labour Supply IV

4. Internal population position and trend in different countries, social and demographic situation.

5. Current relation of population to existing economic needs and to economic development. Labour supply. Vocational training. Current and prospective gaps and needs.

* Reproduced, with minor editorial changes, from the original issued in Santiago, Chile.

51-12497

Theoretical Analysis V

6. Analysis of the relation of population to national income. "Theory of optimum population" and its critique.

Current position as regards Immigration VI

7. The supply and demand position for immigrants and its trend; the relation to Chapters IV and V; limiting factors; legislation and policy. Availability of migrants; the European problem; whether needs as in 5 above are being met.

Possible further contribution of Immigration to Economic Development VII

8. Assessment of the economic value of immigration to Latin American countries having regard to the foregoing, and extent of further contribution likely to be desirable and possible.

Means of promoting Economic Development through Immigration VIII

9. The promotion of immigration where desirable. Optimum type plans and projects and requirements for their success. Need for capital and technical assistance, and possible sources of these.

International Aspects IX

10. International aspects; the United Nations, the I.L.O. and the other Specialised Agencies. Technical Assistance. Co-operation of other interested countries. Attitude of lending institutions.

Conclusions X

11. Conclusions.